Inlet Dance Theatre's "What Do You Do With An Idea?" will world premiere for one night only at Playhouse Square's Ohio Theatre, March 21, 2018, 7:00 pm. Tickets are only $10 and are on sale now at playhousesquare.org and 216-241-6000.

Inlet Dance Theatre's "What Do You Do With An Idea?" is a dance theatre adaptation of the New York Times bestselling children's book by Kobi Yamada, illustrated by Mae Besom (©Compendium, Inc). The production is the story of one brilliant idea and the child who helps to bring it into the world. As the child's confidence grows, so does the idea itself. And then, one day, something amazing happens. It is a story for anyone, at any age, who's ever had an idea that seemed a little too big, too odd, or too difficult.

Using Inlet's distinct aesthetic, "What Do You Do With An Idea?" was choreographed by the company's Founder and Executive/Artistic Director, Bill Wade, in collaboration with the cast. The original score is by Jeremy Allen with Dee Perry's voice providing narration. Scenic design is by Ian Petroni and costuming by Kristin Wade. The show is coproduced via the LAUNCH performance creation residency program of the Community Engagement & Education Department of Playhouse Square (Cleveland, OH).
